

STUDENT COUNCIL WILL NOT DECIDE MALLORY AFFAIR

Further discussion of the present public-relations setup in the Athletic department will be one of the major items on the agenda when the Student Council begins its regular meeting at 7:45 tonight.

According to ASB President Marty Taylor, a decision by the Council will not be forthcoming at this meeting, but will be made at a later date after the council has viewed all the evidence presented concerning the efficiency of the job done by the current public relations man, Charles Mallory.

The Council is also expected to take action on a proposed revision of Article VII of the ASB constitution, which is concerned with care, maintenance, and distribution of equipment purchased with Student Body funds.

FRESHMEN SWAMP SOPHS 175-50 FOR MIXER WIN

Freshmen copped this quarter's mixer with a score of 175 points against the sophomores' 50, states Ray Bishop, frosh class president.

Winning results hinged on the attendance at the Thursday night dance, at which the freshmen were required to outnumber the sophs 3-1. The frosh turned out enmasse and walked away with the 100 points awarded the event, according to Bishop.

An overtime was played in the basketball contest to determine the victors, as the regular session ended 26 all. Center Les Penterman's free throw during the extra three minutes decided the issue in favor of the frosh. Eli Bariteau, sophomore, and Al Lamboy, frosh, tied for individual high scoring honors with 12 digits each.

Sophomores won their 50 points in the baby bottle contest and girls' volleyball. Jack Casey and Bill Montague, freshmen, romped in to take first place in the men's relay race, closely followed by freshmen Bishop and Lowell Grat-tan. Frosh females took the win over the sophomores in the women's relay race.

Two Explosions Shake Chicago's Skyscrapers

CHICAGO, March 2 (UP) — Two persons were killed and 50 injured today when two gas explosions demolished a three-story building on the edge of Chicago's Loop and shattered windows in stores and skyscrapers in a six-block area.

The glass and brick debris showered the area like a hail storm, causing most of the injuries. The two victims, who had been walking down the street, were hurled 30 feet into the air along with large blocks of sidewalk and landed on tracks of the elevated lines running in front of the leveled building.

Only one of the injured was in serious condition. Most of the others were released after treatment.

Police and fire department officials said that only the fact that the explosions occurred on a Sunday averted a major disaster. On a weekday, they said, such an explosion would have caused hundreds of casualties.

A fire followed the explosion but was brought quickly under control. Firemen and police were digging through the debris of the building tonight, but it was believed no one had been trapped in the building.

RED CROSS DRIVE BEGINS; GIRLS FROM CWC RUN BOOTH

BUSINESS OFFICE WILL ALSO RECEIVE CONTRIBUTIONS;
QUOTA OF $1,720 LESS THAN LAST YEAR'S;
DRIVE ENDS EARLY IN MARCH

By IRENE BRENNAN

The campus Red Cross fund drive begins today, and will last the rest of this week, according to Clare Canevari and Mrs. Dolores Spurgeon, student and faculty chairmen of the drive.

A booth has been placed in the Library arch to receive contributions. Today it will be manned by girls from the Catholic Women's Center, according to Miss Canevari.

Miss Edith Graves in the Business office will also receive contributions from students as well as faculty members and organizations.

Quota for this year's campus drive is $1720, according to the chairmen, who added that it is $480 less than last year's quota.

They added that the drive is based on purely voluntary contributions. "I hope that each student will try to contribute at least 50 cents," Miss Canevari said, "but any amount will be welcomed."

The college is trying to finish its part of the drive during the first week in March, according to the chairmen. If the quota is not reached, it may be necessary to extend the campaign, they said.

Today also marks the opening of the fund drive throughout the United States. The national quota has been set at $60,000,000, and the drive for funds will be conducted throughout the month of March.

Gov. Earl Warren has also proclaimed today as the beginning of the Red Cross drive for funds in California, and has urged Californians to support the drive.

"In peace as well as war," the governor said, "the American Red Cross serves an important need of our people. It is our reserve against an emergency or disaster which may strike without warning anywhere at any time."

Short Skit For Education Club

A short skit, "It Can Never Happen," will be the feature attraction at a meeting of the Education club Wednesday at 3:30 in room A1.

"Following the skit, Miss Doris Robinson, Placement office, will give a short talk on helpful hints in applying for a teaching position," announces Ann Tomasello, club president. Plans will also be made at this time for attending the State convention of the California Student Teachers association in San Francisco, April 11 and 12. Five representatives will be sent to the convention from San Jose State college.

Miss Tomasello invites all teacher training students to attend the meeting.

Dr. William Poytress Speaks Tonight On World Economics

Dr. William Poytress, Social Science head, will address the Junior Chamber of Commerce tonight at the De Anza hotel. The title of his speech: "We're On Our Way—Where?"

This talk will present problems in world economics with particular emphasis on the present explosive inflation. "When will the bubble break?" Dr. Poytress said, will be one of the main points of the talk.

Mel Wright, of the Commerce department, is president of the group. Wes Nunes, student, is in charge of this evening's program.

Elections Held By State College Patrons' Group

Mrs. Anthony Jurass was elected president of the San Jose Patrons Association dinner held February 26.

Mrs. Dana Thomas, outgoing president conducted the meeting, which was held in the Little Theater. Mrs. R. B. Haggerty and Miss Dora Smith were elected to the offices of first and second vice presidents, respectively. The new recording secretary will be Mrs. Hampton Jones, and the treasurer will be Mrs. R. C. Page.

It was reported that the Patrons' association has given $200 to the Memorial Chapel fund and has been instrumental in obtaining substantial donations to the fund from other organizations.

Mrs. J. J. Garland, Junior Past president of the state Congress Parent Teachers' association was the guest speaker. She gave highlights of work accomplished by the PTA since its founding 50 years ago.

Mrs. Garland also told the patrons that a fund had been set aside for teacher education scholarships.

CHOIR PRESENTS ANNUAL CONCERT TOMORROW NIGHT

The San Jose State college A Cappella choir present its 12th annual concert tomorrow night at 8:15 in the Morris Dailey auditorium.

Under the direction of Mr. William Erlendson, the choir has planned a full and varied program. Featured with the A Cappella group will be soloists Emily Baptista and Victor McLane, who appeared recently in the college vocal recital.

Songs by the choir will include selections from the Russian school, a motet for double chorus by Bach, three songs from the 16th and 17th centuries, contemporary works, and the Motet for Advent, written for eight part chorus and mixed quartet.

Miss Baptista, soprano, will be heard in the "Trois Beaux Oiseaux du Paradis" by Ravel. She and McLane, tenor, will sing a duet with chorus, the "Benedictus" by Paladilhe.

The concert tomorrow night will be the first in five years for the A Cappella choir. Although it was organized in 1932 by Mr. Erlendson, the group became inactive in 1942 because of the war. At present, it has approximately 60 members, which according to Mr. Erlendson, is the ideal size.

Tomorrow night's concert is open to the public and is free of charge.

PRIZES OFFERED IN MUSIC CONTEST

Students with talent in music composition now have the opportunity to win cash prizes in the contest sponsored by the college Music department.

Four fields of music, piano solo, vocal solo, vocal ensemble, and instrument ensemble, are open for contributions.

The contest is open to any full time San Jose State college student regardless of major. The entries must be written in a serious theme, although not necessarily of a classical nature. Compositions are to be written in ink on regulation music theme paper, and are to be submitted to the secretary of the Music department by April 5.

Prizes are $25 for the first winner in each of the fields and $10 for second prizes.

Russians Now Have All Atom Secrets

WASHINGTON, March 2 (UP) — Radio Commentator Drew Pearson said tonight that "Russian scientists now have all the secrets of the Atomic bomb except for certain technical machinery needed to distill uranium to the point where they have enough material to produce bombs in quantity."

In his weekly broadcast (American), he said, that Russia now has enough uranium to make a small atom bomb, but nothing on the scale of the one dropped on Hiroshima.

Buffalo Teachers Reopen Schools

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 2 (UP) — The Nation's biggest teachers strike ended tonight when the Buffalo Teachers' Federation agreed to accept salary increases recommended by the city administration and return to classrooms which have been idle for a week.

Thus the way was paved for reopening of the city's 98 public schools, and the resumption of classes for 72,000 school children tomorrow morning (Monday).

Spartans Lose to COP in Cage Finale

By ABNER FRITZ

Giant Jack Toomay scored 20 points Friday nights as the Tigers from COP downed San Jose's Spartans 59-48.

The six and a half foot center from Stockton led his teammates in the scoring parade in running up the largest total perpetrated against the Spartans on any court this season.

Grant Dunlap, class COP guard tanked shots from all the corners to garner second place scoring honors with 14 points.

Captain Hal Sonntag, in his last cage game for the Gold and White, and Stu Inman scored 10 points apiece for the local quintet. Chuck Hughes, who left the game with several minutes remaining tallied nine points for the Spartan cause.

The score was tied three times in the first five minutes, and at the quarter mark the Spartans held a one point margin, but COP proved that the win in Stockton on February 1 was no fluke by taking the lead with nine minutes to go in the first half and never relinquishing it.

The Tigers outclassed the Spartans with their fast breaking attack and aggressiveness on defense. It just wasn't San Jose's night.

Early arrivals witnessed Harley Dow pace the Spartan JayVees to their 18th consecutive win, as Coach Bob Bronzan's boys downed the Borla A. C. Vets 46-22.

Bob Santos, a San Jose High boy, and Johnny Doolittle, all PAL from Redwood City aided in the attack with seven digits each.

In their final game of the season the JayVees were matched against a good team which included some former Spartan cagers. Chubby Collins, who played in '38, '39, and was team captain in '40 and Johnny Boyle also from the same team were the sparkplugs of the Borlo club.

Collins, a long shot artist tanked two from way out, and Boyle was high scorer for the team.

Every meeting of the Student Council should be well attended. Items of interest to every student come up all the time. At present there is the problem of publicity. Tonight more information will be submitted to the Council, both for and against Charles Mallory.

Important additions to the Student Court, such as appointing a prosecuting attorney whose duty it will be to present all charges of offenses to the Court, will be brought up at the meeting.

Since there is no one to present the Student Body's case connected with the Student Court now, the Justices must do the investigating and render decision too. This gives the justices an opportunity to become biased, and the provision for a prosecuting attorney will eliminate that opportunity.

Once again ASB President Marty Taylor has extended his invitation to all interested persons to attend the meeting at 7:45 this evening. He has also requested that all organizations send representatives to the meeting.

Why should it be necessary for the president to ask people to come to the meetings? The students have no reason to feel that, since they have elected representatives to the Student Council, they have nothing more to do with the Council.

If you have anything to say about the way in which the student government is run, go to tonight's meeting and get it off your chest. A suggestion at the right time and place will do more good than all the "d——" griping that can be done.

THRUST AND PARRY

'Cancerous Growth'

Thrust and Parry:

This student is sorry to see that a vociferous minority of the student body is incapable of accepting constructive criticism and put it to the use for which it was intended.

The question of the existence of subversive elements in Washington Square was disregarded for its constructive endeavor to student welfare.

The vicious attitude of a few, about the band's attendance at a football game in Santa Barbara only caused ill feeling.

The callous conduct at the basketball games has labeled the school's spirit.

The apparently genuine endeavor of Lycurgus to print a pro and con article about fraternities and sororities shows these groups can see nothing but the destructive.

This constant attitude, I am certain, is not wanted by the majority here. It is therefore suggested that these people acquire a mature outlook and the spirit of improvement before venturing their opinions.

I appeal to the sincere majority

Suggestion

Thrust and Parry:

Several friends and I wish to know if the reels of movies Miss Bullock gives on Tuesdays at 3:20 in room 210 could not be given at a more convenient time.

The attendance would be much greater, we're positive, when so many would not be tied up in classes. —ASB 4393

'Bang-Up Affair'

Thrust and Parry:

I would like to use this column to publicly thank all you freshmen and sophomores for taking part in the mixer. It was a social success due to your participation.

Last Thursday's mixer proved that the lower classmen have a lot of class spirit. Thanks again, Frosh and Sophs, for making this mixer such a bang-up affair.

STUDENTS STRIVE TO SIMULATE DOCTOR'S DONKEY

By WILLETTA SULLIVAN

Looking as much like a donkey as two people possibly can—with the aid of a manufactured head and a reasonable facsimile of burro draping—Ivan von Perre and Harold Upson will do their best to play a difficult character part in "The Doctor In Spite of Himself," Moliere's 17th century farce-comedy which will be shown in the Little Theater Wednesday through Saturday.

James Spitz, playing Sganarelle, the woodcutter who suddenly becomes a doctor, is an unbalanced rider, according to Upson whose shoulders bear the burden when the pseudo medic straddles the animal.

But a spill on the stage wouldn't be as bad as the workout Spitz experienced last week when he boarded a real donkey for publicity pictures. Three snaps of the camera, a few kicks from the little monster, and a couple of crash landings later and the student thespian began to wonder just how much a person should suffer for his art.

von Perre considers it a hard job to step into character as the front of the donkey. The lines aren't hard to learn, but the head seems to be held together with quarts of glue. Situation calls for a gas mask to make breathing possible until final curtain.

Good tickets are still available for all nights of the play's run. Cost is 60 cents with ASB card, 90 cents without.

Three Paul Cadmus Prints on Display In Art Wing Exhibit

By BEATRICE DOOLEY

(Concluding article about artists whose work is on exhibit in the Art wing.)

Paul Cadmus, an assured and expert draughtsman, has three of his prints on display in the exhibition of contemporary American artists.

Cadmus was born in New York City and studied there at the National Academy of Design and Art Students League. His absorbing interest is painting people, especially their anatomy, and the play of muscles and the stretch of skin above them. He definitely resembles Signorelli, 16th century Italian painter, in both his interest and his style.

His prints shown here are: "Horseplay," "Boy with a Kite," and "Two Boys on the Beach."

Alfred Kraemer, the newest member of Midtown Galleries group, is a native of California. He exhibits two watercolors "By the Sea" and "Morning Village."

After 30 years of painting and "playboying," Waldo Peirce earned the right to be recognized as an artist, and today he is considered one of the foremost contemporary American painters. His large, untidy beard and his Rabelaisian vocabulary contribute toward his reputation as "The Last of the Bohemians."

His prints "Circus on the Move," "By the Sea," and "Sailors Dancing" are on display here.

Winner of many medals and cash prizes, Fred Nagler has paintings in collections of many museums and people. He has two prints "Trout Stream" and "Two Prizefighters" in the art department exhibit, and an oil of "Three Women."

Course Ranks High in Popularity

LONG WAITING LIST FOR STUDENTS WHO WANT TO STUDY WATCHMAKING

By DICK FRY

Looking at the waiting list figures, you might get the idea that the two-year technical course in watchmaking is one of the most popular at San Jose State college. If you talk to the instructors in this department, Mr. Francis Crofut and Mr. Forrest Peifer, or some of the students enrolled in the division, there is no doubt about its ranking number one on the popularity list.

This quarter, there are 42 student watchmakers in the Horology sections and a waiting list including approximately 150 Californians and 300 non-residents. At present, Californians are being given precedence.

Although classes are located in the southwest wing of the Industrial Arts department, watchmaking is not an IA course and is not included in the curriculum of the State college. It is strictly a vocational course, in the junior college division, with emphasis on practicality.

SPONSORS

The school is sponsored partly by the California Retail Jewelers Association. This group donated money to get the training started, and will reap some of the benefits when graduates start moving out into the field at a regular rate and go to work in stores included in the Jewelers Association.

"Our graduates are journeymen watchmakers, not apprentices, when they finish the two-year course," Mr. Crofut said. "The men must be competent to hold jobs as watchmakers, and all instruction is based along these lines.

There is no grading according to class average as we must be certain that each individual is actually qualified in the field. Marks are based entirely on the student's ability to do the job," Mr. Crofut explained.

Under Crofut's direction, instruction in Horology courses is kept as practical as possible. The first day in class students are given watches to dismantle as Mr. Crofut puts his "utility first and last" program into effect. "We stay away from the textbook approach almost entirely," he said. "This is hardly a course than can become theoretical and still accomplish its purpose of turning out employees for the retail jewelry field."

GUINEA PIG

Mr. Crofut, himself the owner of a jewelry store in Santa Maria, California, inserts as much experience as possible into the program. "We use my store as sort of a guinea pig for practical problems that arise," he said. "Then, too, six or seven of my students are working in jewelry stores here in San Jose and they use facts from the job to keep the course on a practical level."

The watchmaking program is composed of four hours of lab work everyday plus additional courses in history, constitution, and English which are needed by the Horology major to fulfill the requirements for a junior college credential. In all, he collects ten units of watchmaking credit per quarter.

Santa Cruz Sun Burns Spartans

Pink, shiny faces are seen around campus lately as more and more Spartans take the happy trip to Santa Cruz attempting to blossom forth with a beautiful tan.

"This can be dangerous," said one student, "when the sun is hidden behind the fog is when most people get the worst possible burns. Every bit of moisture in the air," added Miss Plum, "acts as a magnifying lens and increases the burning power of the sun."

"To get the best benefits from a day at the beach, or even from a sunning in the back yard, a person should take things slowly at first. This idea of getting a bad burn, in hopes of its turning to tan, is slightly old-fashioned. With the aid of a little sun tan oil, olive oil or lanolin, plus some common sense, a person can get a painless tan.

"Moderation is the theme of life. Don't try much more than an hour in the sun at a time. Especially during the first day out. Remember that the worst burns come during a foggy day. Just because you can't see 'el sol' don't think he isn't working on your epidermis."

Students who wish to become frosh counselors may sign up any afternoon in the SCA office in the Student Union, states Doc Vitale.

There are several qualifications for prospective counselors. They must be in attendance at the college for at least three quarters, and must be willing to devote much of their spare time to the committee. Leadership, ability, and previous experience as frosh camp counselors are also desirable qualifications, concluded Vitale.

SPARTAN WRESTLERS CAPTURE THIRD IN FAR WEST TOURNEY

San Jose State's wrestling team took third place in the Far Western Wrestling Championships at Oakland over the weekend, garnering 23 points. The Spartans followed California and the Olympic club in that order.

Despite the fact the Spartans were unable to get into the winning column they amassed their points in the finals and semi-finals matches. Co-captain Ray Miser lost a close decision to Kittridge of San Diego State in the final 155 pound match and Pat Felice lost to Doc Northrup of the Olympic club in the 165 pound final.

Fred Albright, wrestling unattached, lost to Ted Stanford of California in the 136 pound final.

SJ Nine Opens Against Indians

San Jose State's varsity nine opens its 1947 baseball season Tuesday when it travels to Palo Alto to tangle with the Stanford Indians. The Indians boast a record of 3 wins, 1 loss, and 1 tied and should be ready for the Spartans when the two teams collide.

Spartan Boxers In 2C2A Tourney

Coach Dee Portal will send his varsity boxers into final competition before the PCI tournament this weekend, in Santa Barbara against other members of the 2C2A conference.

The Spartans, regarded as one of the strongest teams on the coast, will be highly favored to carry away the title Saturday night.

Last Thursday night the Spartan boxers lost only one match in their final home appearance before the largest crowd ever assembled for a boxing show in Spartan gym.

With the exception of Al Figg and Rudy Aguirre, San Jose will be in top shape for the league tourney down south. Coach Portal and his eight-man team will leave San Jose Thursday.

As yet the starters have not been named but are expected to be selected tomorrow.

SWIMMERS BATTLE HORNETS THURSDAY

Coach Charlie Walker's varsity swimmers will attempt to get back in the win column Thursday night in the local pool, when they face a strong Fullerton junior college team.

The Hornet team, always a standout in Southern California swimming circles, is expected to give the Spartans trouble.

Next week the Spartan swimmers will meet California in the local pool.

Stanford swimmers last week, not only broke four pool records in their meet with San Jose but set four PCC records. However, the Coast records will not be entered on the books as they can only be made in conference meets.

The complete schedule for the remainder of the 1947 season is:

March 12—California, here.*

March 14—Cal Poly, here.*

March 20—St. Mary's, here.*

SPARTAN JUDO TEAM DEFEATS SF ACADEMY

San Jose State's judo team defeated the American Judo Academy of San Francisco in the Bay City Friday night.

Coached by Yosh Uchida, former Spartan wrestler and judo team member, the Staters had little trouble in downing the highly touted opponents in their opening meet.

The Spartan judoists won six of the ten individual matches while dropping two and tying two. In the six man team match, the Spartans won 4-2.

A return match to be held in the local gym is being arranged, announced Coach Uchida.

WINTER EVOLVES NEW IDEA FOR INTERCLASS TRACK MEET

Something new will be attempted this year in the annual interclass track and field meet. The Spartan Daily Sports staff and Bud Winter, varsity track coach, will divide the 1947 Spartan cindermen into six teams. The meet is scheduled for March 13-14 at Spartan stadium.

There will be senior and novice classes. Any man who has won points in junior college or for San Jose State will be declared in the senior class.

The scoring and selection of teams is now in progress. Coach Winter will try to distribute his top-notch varsity men so that each of the six teams will be evenly matched.

Every interclass track squad will have a manager. The manager's primary duty will be to sign men up for the novice team.

Coach Winter is considering an "open free-for-all 50-yard dash" for the novice class, but nothing definite has been decided upon.

Track captains for the senior divisions are as follows: Steve O'Meara, Ray Overhouse, Woody Linn, Thelno Knowles, Bill Rhyne.

Coach Winter announced that sororities and fraternities are eligible to get behind the different track squads and boost the cindermen in the interclass meet in the same way as the boxing teams.
